Climbing Everest: Sport & Action

Learn about Climbing Everest with iMinds insightful knowledge series. Mount Everest is situated in the Himalayan Mountains, on the border between Nepal and Tibet. It is the tallest mountain in the world, standing roughly 29,029 feet above sea level. Every year, Mount Everest gets taller by about half an inch. This is due to movements in the Earth's crust and two tectonic plates, deep beneath the Earth's surface, pushing together. The name "Himalaya" means "home of snow", but snow is only one of the many challenges faced by a climber of Mount Everest. The danger with snow is that there is always the risk of an avalanche. Snow, ice and r
